

Trauma Informed Response for Investigators

FREE Training for law enforcement and prosecutors

August 8, 2022: 8:30-4:30 and August 9, 2022: 8:30-12
Wichita State University: Hughes Metro Complex
5015 E. 29th Street North; Room 180

This 1 1/2 day seminar focuses on how a trauma informed response to sexual and domestic violence can improve outcomes for both the survivors and the agency. We can be really good cops and investigators AND use a trauma informed response. The trauma informed process just makes us better overall.

Captain Mike Schentrup retired in 2021 as a Bureau Commander for the Gainesville (FL) Police Department, where he had worked for almost 25 years. The majority of his career was spent in investigative units, including major case detective and ultimately the division commander for detectives. He is an adjunct instructor for law enforcement for the Florida Council Against Sexual Violence and is currently part of EVAWI's Cadre of Experts.

Questions, please contact Dung Kimble, StepStone Program Director:
dkimble@stepstoneks.org

Co-Sponsored by StepStone and the Wichita State University Police Department

